MRS. M. WITT RESIGNS HEAD COUSINS HALL

Has Been Supervisor At Hall For Past 13 Years

GOING TO NEW YORK

Work at Hall Praised By Associates Monday in Reception

Mrs. Marion Witt has resigned her position as supervisor of Cousins Hall and will leave next week with her daughter, Miss Marion Witt, who teaches in the city college for women of New York. Mrs. Agnes Smith, who is now supervisor of Randall Hall, will succeed Mrs. Witt at Cousins Hall.

Mrs. Witt has been supervisor of Cousins Hall since it was built in 1920. The Hall was erected under a special appropriation of the legislature, owing to the inadequate facilities in Canyon at that time to house the college girls. Mrs. Witt was selected to supervise the Hall and her wonderful success and influence has been felt by the hundreds of girls who have made their home there during the past 13 years.

"Cousins Hall has been a college home, and cultural center," stated President J. A. Hill Monday night.

A reception honoring Mrs. Witt was held Monday night, attended by many friends from the college faculty and among the citizens of Canyon.

Mrs. J. A. Hill paid a high tribute to Mrs. Witt as she has known her through many years of close association.

Mrs. Agnes Smith spoke of her loyalty to her church, the Methodist Episcopal. "She has been a blessing to the womanhood of Texas through her loyalty to the church," stated Mrs. Smith.

Miss Ada V. Clark sang two solos, which she sang for the pleasure of Mrs. Witt while a student in Cousins Hall.

Miss Tennessee Malone spoke of her association with Mrs. Witt at Cousins Hall during the past 13 years.

President J. A. Hill displayed an enlarged picture of Mrs. Witt, which will be placed in the office of the Hall. He outlined his long acquaintanceship with Mrs. Witt, which started while he worked in her home as a high school boy 39 years ago. This is the only teachers college in Texas which owns dormitories for girls, and the success of Cousins Hall has been on account of the splendid supervision of Mrs. Witt.

Mr. Hill introduced the wives of three Texas senators who were present, Mrs. Clint C. Small of Amarillo, Mrs. Walter Woodward of Coleman, and Mrs. Walter Woodul of Houston.

Mrs. Witt expressed her very great appreciation of the College and Canyon, and the friends who had gathered to honor her in the reception which was held.

Major J. A. Watson Placed in Charge Four C.C.C. Camps

The assignment of four companies to the improvement work now in progress at Palo Duro canyon has necessitated the forming of a new C. C. C. sub-district, it was officially announced Tuesday, Major James A. Watson being relieved as commander of Company 1829 and assigned as inspector of the new sub-district.

Sub-district D., C. C. C., the official name of the new branch of the Oklahoma district, will have headquarters at the west rim of Palo Duro canyon, and embraces the three companies of world war veterans at Palo Duro and the company at Palisades, Major Watson announced.

Major S. C. Gurney, of the U. S. Medical Corps, was assigned as medical inspector of the new district.

Recommend $30,000 Build Park Highway

Will Ask For Designation of Road by State Commission

Recommendation for $30,000 for Randall county as a special road relief fund was made last week by the Texas Relief Commission and the State Highway Commission. The county had asked for $180,000, but this amount was cut down to $30,000, states Senator Clint C. Small, who presented the claim of Panhandle counties.

There is nothing certain about the request being granted, stated Senator Small. Panhandle counties asked for this special fund in order to furnish local work during the fall and winter. A meeting was held in Amarillo, with representatives present from 17 Panhandle counties, and the needs of the counties were compiled. With the approval of the state authorities, Congressman Marvin Jones will seek to have the federal government make this special allotment to the drouth stricken counties of this section of the state.

Judge S. B. Orton has requested a hearing at the next session of the State Highway Commission for the road from Canyon to the Palo Duro State Park. With the heavy traffic on this road, something must be done, and Randall county is not in position to pay all of the bill in building an all weather type of road. The matter of widening the road is pending the decision of the Highway Commission and it is hoped that this body will reconsider the matter which was rejected at the last hearing. Senator Small will assist a delegation from this county in asking the highway committee to take over this road, making it a state highway.

Women Employed at Sewing by Randall Relief Committee

A sewing room will be opened in the offices of the Randall County Relief Committee, on the east side of the square, under the supervision of Mrs. H. O. Price. Red Cross cloth which has been shipped here will be made up into garments for distribution during the coming winter.

Applications will be received in the afternoons by Mrs. Price from women whose families must have assistance from the local committee. Hours for labor, and the schedule for pay has not been determined by the Relief Committee, but this information will be available within a short time.

Only women who are permanent residents of Randall county will be accepted to do this sewing.

Buffalo Band To Play at the Palo Duro Park Tonite

The Buffalo Band will go to the C. C. C. camp at the Palo Duro State Park at 6:30 o'clock this evening for a concert at 7:00 o'clock.

Canyon citizens are invited to go out to the camp.

Several cars are needed to assist in carrying the band members, and are asked to be at the east entrance of the administration building at 6:30.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves made an interesting talk at the camp Sunday morning on incidents connected with the early history of the Plains.

Light Showers Fall In Various Parts of Randall County

Canyon received .45 of an inch rain Monday night and .02 of an inch on Tuesday night. This makes a total for July of 1.70 inches of rain, and a total of only 5.72 inches since the first of January.

Several parts of the county were covered by local showers during the past week, but no general rain has fallen in West Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barker of Garden City, Kansas, came last week for a visit in the parental G. B. Combs home. Mr. Barker returned after a day's visit, but Mrs. Barker remained for a few days longer. Mr. Combs expects to take her home the last of this week.

Ballots Are Ready for Special Election on Aug. 26th

Two ballots will be placed in the hands of voters in the special election of August 26th.

On one of these ballots will be printed the four constitutional amendments, which have been submitted to the people of the state. One amendment will be on legalizing 3.2 beer in Texas; one will be for the $20,000,000 state bond issue for relief during the coming two years; one will be to extend home rule for the large counties of Texas; and the other will be to extend the $3,000 exemption to those counties which are now tax exempt, but only when the time comes that they do not have this exemption.

The other ballot will be the first steps in repealing the 18th amendment. Two sets of delegates and alternates will be selected. The first column of names is for ratification of an amendment to the federal constitution, which means the repeal of the 16th amendment. The second column is headed "against ratification," which means the retention of the 18th amendment. Voters should keep in mind that the first set of names are anti-prohibitionists, while the second group are prohibitionists.

Sample ballots are printed on another page of this issue of The News.

The News is making arrangements to compile the returns from Randall county, and will receive a number of bulletins throughout the evening of August 26th from the state.

$290,232.04 IS LIKELY FOR THE WHEAT FARMER

Action Held Up Awaiting Further Plan Making

AVERAGE YIELD SET

Large Amount of Money This Fall and In Spring

Randall county farmers may receive as much as $290,232.04 on their wheat crop from the government if all sign the agreement when it is presented.

County Agent W. H. Upchurch states that the average yield during the past five years has been 1,914,176 bushels. The government takes 54% of this yield and allows 28 cents per bushel to the farmers who enter the agreement, making the total of 1,036,543 bushels or $290,232.04 cash. Of this money, 20% will be paid this fall, and the balance in the spring.

Mr. Upchurch states that he has received no call to meet at College Station where final instructions will be given. He expects to receive this call in a few days. Farmers are advised to await definite instructions and to attend the meetings which will be held over the county after all information has been given.

Randall county produces 5% of all the wheat raised in Texas, according to the figures just compiled. Only two counties exceed Randall, Ochiltree and Carson, therefore the farmers will benefit in proportion.

Mr. Upchurch stated this morning that he was hopeful of receiving all information by next week.

Miss Bass was highly pleased with the results obtained in Randall county during the past year, and the showing made by the representatives from this county. The work has been carried on only since last summer, but most creditable showings have resulted.

Relief Committee Opens Office On East Side of Square

Offices for the Randall County Relief Committee were opened Tuesday on the east side of the square in the building formerly occupied by Eastwood. H. S. Strain, secretary to the committee, is arranging his office furniture preparatory to the work that the committee will have in the future.

The relief work has been transacted in the court house in the past, but the new committee believed it better to have an office away from the court house for coming activities. The new committee is composed of Lee Foster, J. J. Walker, Oscar Smith, Clyde McElroy and T. V. Slack.

COMMITTEE NAMED

Codes of Ethics Are Now Being Considered By Vocations

At the request of General Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the National Recovery Administration, the Chamber of Commerce has appointed a local committee of representative citizens, who will assist in the administration of the NRA so far as Randall county is concerned. The request for this committee came to Clyde W. Warwick on Tuesday and the followng were named representng the various vocations of the city:

Mayor C. R. Burrow, Fred E. Wortham, W. C. Black, Marion Bishir, Oscar Gano, W. A. Warren, Alfred Bellah, Madison Daugherty, T. C. Thompson, J. W. Kleinschmidt, J. Roy Moses, Carl Laughery, W. J. Wooten, Albert E. Terry, O. A. May, J. J. Walker, Rev. C. W. Foote, Guy Harp, Carl Hair, Dr. M. L. Saddoris, Dr. R. P. Jarrett, G. G. Foster, Judge S. B. Orton, Ray Campbell, Homer Price.

The committee is advisory in nature and may consider such orders that affect this county as may be given from time to time by General Johnson. Other names may be added, representing other organizations in Canyon.

Fred E. Wortham will return Friday from Dallas where he has been attending a School for Chamber of Commerce executives. The school was addressed by federal officials on the National Recovery Act, and information will be brought back to Canyon by Mr. Wortham regarding the latest information given out by General Johnson.

Business Meeting

About 50 heads of business firms met Saturday morning to discuss the general code which will be in operation until the first of September. By that time it is expected that Codes will be effective for each and every vocation and business in the nation. Mayor Burrow presided, and short talks were made by W. A. Warren, T. C. Thompson and other business men who have been making a study of the new plan.

Practically every business house has signed the agreement which was sent out by President Roosevelt. Reduction of hours of operation will be the main feature in Canyon for the present time. Stores will open at later hours in the mornings, and will close earlier in the evenings. Practically all of the stores in town will observe hours either 7:30 or 8:00 in the morning until 6:00 in the evening. Saturday night closing will be either 8:00 or 9:00 o'clock.

Confusion will likely exist for several days before more definite arrangements have been made, and each business is operated under the Code of its own making.

As a result of NRA wholesale prices in all lines have advanced rapidly during the past few weeks. Retail merchants have not increased prices on their present stocks, and are pledged not to do so under the new administration. The buying public will find it much to their advantage to buy now as prices in all lines must be advanced when new stocks are purchased.

PANHANDLE MEMBER 1933 PRESS ASSOCIATION

There is no question about the American people wishing to cooperate with President Roosevelt in regard to the Recovery Act. The only thing that the public should keep in mind is that not all business firms can operate under the same conditions. The people therefore should not become critical when they see that business firms are observing different hours, and working under a code of its own. The Code which is fair to the druggist will not be fair to the dry goodsman, or the hardwaremen; or the lumberman, and so on. This Utopia will not be worked out in a day, or in a week. The government asks all business to operate under a general code from August 1st until September 1st. By that time the Code of Ethics for each vocation will be worked out and approved. Business people are worried as to the way the public will take the new changes which will be necessary, especially the shorter hours for stores to remain open. But the stores will not have to remain open such long hours if the public will be more careful in their patronage. There is hardly any reason why barber shops and grocery stores should be forced to remain open until so late Saturday night, when practically all of the customers during the late hours are people living in town, who could buy earlier if they choose so to do. The big thing right now is for everyone to do his buying early in the day. Do not wait until closing time before going to the stores. Give the business people a chance to live up to the requirements which have been imposed by the government.

Local option elections will be held in many counties in Texas on August 26th. These elections were called for the sake of economy in holding all elections on the same date. A number of Panhandle counties have had elections called, the wets hoping for the opening of saloons immediately if the beer amendment carries. This will have considerable influence on the results of the election. The Panhandle is known to be dry. Yet there are many Panhandle folks who will vote for beer, provided it is not sold legally in their own county. But voting to bring back the saloon in their own town will have a sobering influence upon their votes on the state wide issue. The saloon will return if beer is authorized; it will return with dominating influences if the 18th amendment is repealed. Those who oppose the saloon should stir themselves into active opposition, or the thing which ardent prohibitionists have always said could not be accomplished will be done.

The election of August 26th is expected to be one of the lightest in numbers that the state has ever had on questions of such importance as those which are being presented. About one-third of the voting strength of the state failed to pay a poll tax this year, and therefore cannot vote. It is unusual if more than 50% of the eligible voters ever take the time to go to the polls in a special election. It will therefore not be at all surprising to see only 450,000 votes cast in this election, which will not be a fair test of the will of the people, with normally more than a million qualified voters. It will be another case of the minority ruling. But the election has been called, and all who are qualified to do so should cast their vote.

To Fight Repeal

Here is Canon William Sheafe Chase, who will lead the drys in a legal campaign to block repeal of the 18th amendment. Canon Chase believes that many state repeal conventions which choose delegates at large are unconstitutional. This is the basis on which the drys will attack the repeal movement in court.

It is very evident that the most enthusiastic supporters for a Palo Duro Park realized the possibilities of development, and the ardor which the national government would have in this work once the park idea was approved. Every national official who has visited the Park has praised the possibilities of its development. It shall not be at all surprising to see one of the major national parks developed in the Palo Duro, with something like 100,000 acres included in the project. All of this has been brought about by the wonderful spirit of co-operation on the part of the Panhandle people.

Senator Morris Sheppard is not afraid of the liquor question so far as his political fate is concerned. He starts a campaign which will take him into every one of the thirty-one senatoral districts, sponsoring prohibition. Young Joe Bailey is making almost as strenuous campaign for the wets. It is freely predicted that the senatorial campaign for 1934 is being started in this campaign, as Bailey will seek to displace Sheppard in the United States senate.

People who are failures in one line of endeavor frequently make good in another. For instance, the fellow who couldn't learn to play a piano because he was "all thumbs" turned out to be a successful hitchhiker.

Frankie Parker and Gene Mako, Up-and-Coming Tennisers, May Supply Young Blood Needed in U. S. Net Game

BY PHILIP MARTIN

THE rout of American Davis Cup players by the redcoats of England seems to indicate that we need a little young blood in our tennis make-up. Not that Vines, Allison, Lott and Van Ryn are oldsters, but tennis especially, in terrific tournament play, is a young man's game and the foursome that represented Uncle Sam in Davis Cup competition has been at the game a good many years.

The collapse of Vines in his final match against Perry of England proved that this classic of tennis demands the utmost of a player. The young Californian, No. 1 player of this country, has been going a terrific pace since his rise to the peak of U. S. tennis. And that pace, together with an injured ankle, proved his undoing.

The Wimbledon singles, in which Vines was defeated by Crawford, should have given a warning of what was to come. The American player was far from himself in that set-to with the Australian, and instead of a rather easy win, Vines was humbled by a service that was faster than his own.

* * *

IF Vines, Allison and crew are getting too old, what then? Well, there are a couple of young fellers now playing in the United States who will probably come in for a lot of consideration when the 1934 Davis Cup squad is chosen.

They are Frankie Parker of Milwaukee and New Orleans, and Gene Mako of California.

The 16-year-old Milwaukeean has been proving his championship caliber this year. During the winter season he scored wins over George Lott and Cliff Sutter, and proved himself the class of the west by winning the Western Open at Chicago.

Next year should be Parker's year. His brilliant play at Huston and his work of this summer cannot be overlooked.

Mako is a year older than Parker, but western experts say that he's scheduled to inherit the place in the tennis sun that once was that of R. Lindley Murray, Billy Johnston, Johnny Doeg and Ellsworth Vines.

The kid, a freshman at the University of Southern California, won the Southern California championship from Keith Gledhill, and copped the Ohio state singles recently.

He has the reputation of being the cockiest and most garrulous netter in the country, and perhaps some of that cockiness is just what the U. S. Davis cup squad needs.

His smashing service is said to be matched only by Vines' bullet-like shots.

Frankie Parker, upper right, of Milwaukee and New Orleans, and Gene Mako, bottom left, of California, have been wielding their rackets so well they may get the nod when the 1934 Davis Cup squad is chosen. In center is winsome Leonore Kight, Homestead, Pa., girl, who is vying with Helene Madison for the title of "Uncle Sam's Water Queen."

WITH the finish of the national A. A. U. women's swimming championships at New York, Leonore Kight, Homestead, Pa., girl turns out to be the leadihg candidate for Helene Madison's honors as water queen of the United States.

The sturdy little lady was top swimmer in four events, winning the 100-meter, 440-yard, mile free style and 880-yard races.

Fine Progress Is Being Made Building Palo Duro Park

By W. B. GRAUEL
C. C. C. Camp Correspondent

The 600 Texas World War veterans at work on improvements to the Palo Duro Canyon State Park Thursday started the fourth week of their job as members of the Civilian Conservation Corps. Wednesday marked the end of the third week of work on the new road into the canyon, it being stated that the progress made the past week has brought the work up to a satisfactory mark.

Dirt, sand, gravel and rock have been moved at a fast pace as gangs of men swung picks, shovels, pushed wheel barrows, carried rocks, dynamited and otherwise labored on their particular tasks. Starting at 7:30 a. m. and working four hours in the morning and from 12:30 to 3:30 in the afternoon, much is accomplished, despite tne conditions encountered.

Except for a small stretch at the start, the men practically are building a road around a mountain. There are huge gaps which must be filled-in, and on the other hand it has been necessary to move entire parts of the huge wall of rock, clay, shale and sand that lines the left side of the new road. So far, all work has been done by the crews of men, and to their credit they are doing a big job well.

Pay Day is Feature

There has been more or less joy in camp all week, the reason being that the "ghost walked." To the satisfaction of everyone, the long-awaited pay-day rolled around. Although each man in camp has allotted three - fourths of his pay to his dependants, it seems that considerable money was in circulation, and, as always among groups of men, they kept it in circulation.

A letter from Miss Dorothy Gore, of Canyon, who was elected queen by Company 1828 in appreciation of her interest in the company, was received Tuesday and posted on the company's bulletin board. Miss Gore wrote from Seymour, Texas, where she is vacationing. Her letter manifest the high regard she holds for the men of 1828, and stated that she planned to return in time to dedicate the mess hall, recently finished.

Men Lose Army Trucks

Virtually every man in camp regrets that the use of army trucks to carry the men to and from Canyon and Amarillo has been cancelled. The trucks which made two trips Saturdays and Sundays, and under the new ruling the men will have to provide their own transportation.

The Amarillo Bus Company sent buses out to the camp several nights this week. The nominal charge of 50 cents for the round trip to Amarillo and 35 cents for the round trip to Canyon was made.

Noted Evangelist Back in U. S.

State Per Capita Rate Set at $16 By State Board

The state school apportionment has been set by the State Board of Education at $16, which is the same amount as allowed for this year. However, $6 per capita yet remains unpaid of the apportionment which is due this year.

School executives over the state are greatly relieved to find the exact amount which is planned for distribution by the state board during the coming year. School budgets have been held up pending this decision.

This cowboy thought he had a cinch; but he found out it wasn't a bum steer he had to contend with. Put 6,000,000 to Work by Labor Day— That's Aim of NRA Drive

WITH every American obeying to the letter its slogan, "We Do Our Part," the NRA—National Recovery Administration — hopes to have at least 6,000,000 jobless citizens at work by Labor Day And, by the same token, it plans to deliver the death-blow to Old Man Depression.

The success of this ambitious economic experiment depends on the whole-hearted 100 per cent cooperation of the American public. To enlist this co-operation, the NRA seeks to arouse the citizenry to the pitch of patriotic fervor that carried the wartime Liberty Loan and food-conservation drives to success. A flood of propaganda in the form of tons of literature, motion picture shorts, speeches in theaters, churches and schools, etc., is descending upon the people, educating them in the role they must play in this drive on the depression.

The urgent need for such a campaign has become increasingly evident in the past few months. Production has been rising steadily but consumption has not followed suit. Unless the nation's buying power is increased so that the purchase of commodities keeps pace with their production, an economic relapse is inevitable. In the ordinary course of time, the ranging of every business activity in the United States under individual codes, as provided in the Industrial Control Bill, would accomplish the purpose of building the nation's purchasing power. But, to safeguard the progress towards recovery until that has occurred, each citizen is asked to pledge his co-operation with the government in the campaign towards prosperity.

Each employer of more than two persons is to sign a blanket agreement with President Roosevelt. This agreement or "blanket code," provides a 35-hour week and a $14 weekly minimum wage for industrial employes; and a 40-hour week with a $12 to $15 minimum wage for "white collar" workers. In addition, it prohibits wage reductions, child labor and the increasing of merchandise prices. Every employer signing the agreement gets posters, badges and stickers carrying a blue eagle and the legend, "Member N.R.A. We Do Our Part." He can put these on his goods, in his window, on his delivery carts. Consumers are asked to sign a pledge card promising to support and patronize employers who are "partners" of the president. Stickers and buttons are given to these consumers to show that they are doing their part.

Each U. S. Employer signing blanket code will become Member of the N. R. A.

Consumers are asked to pledge their support and patronage to N. R. A. Members.

The mind behind the great NRA propaganda campaign is that of Administrator Hugh Johnson, bottom left. At right, below, is Charles Francis Horner, who will supervise the drive. In center is the official NRA insignia. The eagle, and the words, "Member" and "U. S." are in blue. "NRA" and "We Do Our Part" are in red. The background is white.

Few employers are expected to resist the NRA's appeal for co-operation. The words, "boycott" and "coercion" are frowned on by NRA officials, but the fact remains that stores displaying "The Sign of the Blue Eagle" are to have the backing of the public. To prevent unauthorized use of the NRA insignia, all post offices will keep on exhibit lists of the president's "partners."

* * *

LOCAL "NRA campaign committees" are being organized in nearly all communities of more than 10,000 population. A man will act as "general" and a woman as "co-general" of each committee. Under them will be a number of "captains," depending on the city's size. Each "captain" will command 10 persons.

These troops will make canvasses to learn which employers are complying with the blanket code; will study the abilities of the local jobless, and local expanding industries, in an effort to get the unemployed absorbed; and will "sell' the blanket code to small business men who belong to no trade associations.

The campaign has been placed under the supervision of Charles Francis Horner of Kansas City, a former rancher, banker, lawyer and newspaper editor who was director of the speakers' bureau of the treasury during the Liberty Loan drives.

Johnson Items

Church services for the community were held at the customary time and place Sunday afternoon. An average crowd was reported present.

Commissioner J. J. Bauer has been indisposed for the past week, however he is feeling much better now.

Most everyone in the community enjoyed Harley Sadler's plays last week. Many families attended four of his performances.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Bauer spent Sunday in the parental L. A. Donnell home.

HEALTH TEACHING

Health teaching must begin in the public schools, a speaker told the National Tuberculosis convention, but it has to be carried on in the home and parents have to be entirely in sympathy with the program before the schools can accomplish much, influential as they are.

Children's habits are formed at home before they become of school age. If they are not required by their parents to take baths as frequently as they should, to cleanse their teeth and take care of their body properly, no amount of teaching will accomplish that which is desired.

Once upon a time a school teacher sent the parent of a particularly unclean child a note asking that he be sent to school clean. The teacher received the following reply:

"Willie ain't no rose. Learn him, don't smell him."

Teachers can accomplish little in the modern health crusade in the public schools when parents taake this attitude.

Some family skeletons can't be kept in a closet.

EASY TO FIND FAULT

The simplest and easiest thing in the world to do is to find fault. The weaknesses of humanity are so apparent that no special talent is needed to criticize.

It's easy and generally more convenient to take no interest in the public schools and then complain about the way the schools are managed.

It's less burdensome to stay away from the polls on election day and then everlastingly fuss about the public officials.

The path of the least resistance is to spend Sunday seeking amusement and then scoff at the church because it does not draw crowds.

The irresponsible way is to sit back on the sidelines and refuse to take any part in community affairs and then grouch about the way public affairs are conducted.

It's the easiest thing in the world to degenerate into a disagreeable, musty self-contented and chronic grumbler.

Every community, regardless of its size, has its disgruntled citizens who never find anything but bad in everything and who delight in complaining about it.

A certain number will always exist, no doubt, as a horrible example for those who make an honest effort to function as citizens. Perhaps they are of some value, after all, because they are a constant warning of what forward looking people wish to avoid becoming.

A famous scientist claims that science is ending war. Come to think of it, many a man hasn't had so much trouble at home since he bought his wife that new washing machine.

To restore employment, Uncle Sam will borrow from his citizens several billion dollars for public works. Which is perfectly oken with everybody, providing the public works.

An Austrian inventor announces an auto horn which expresses the driver's mood. The autoist who is usually accompanied by a backseat driver will probably want to place his order for a snarl.

Paying taxes to support schools is especially painful when you consider that almost everybody responsible for the present state of affairs is educated.

Jackson, Wyo., court employe claims he caught a fish and a duck on one hook. That's either a fish story or a bird of a yarn.

One good trait bankers have—you don't catch them passing the buck. At least, not back to the depositors.

'Woman Lives With Only Half a Brain."—Headline. We'll bet she was the one who nicked our fender with her car the other day.

Well, grass hasn't begun to grow in our streets yet, mainly because we have a president who doesn't let it grow under his feet.

If a fellow became intoxicated on the new 3.2 beer, would that be called a three-toot?

Another way to keep from growing old is to drive sixty miles an hour on a strange road.

Keep in Swim With Modish Beach Togs

PAJAMAS AND SHORTS EXCELLENT FOR SLENDER FIGURES; DRESSES FOR FEMININE BATHERS IN OTHER CATEGORY

BY HARRIET

BEACH clothes have become as important in a woman's wardrobe as her street clothes or evening things.

You should exercise the same precision when you select ensembles for the beach as you do when choosing any other apparel for your wardrobe.

You don't have to live on an ocean beach to realize just how important your bathing togs are to you. Swimming at a country resort and even in the river that runs through your town calls for a definite planning of beach clothes.

Get your bathing suit first and then build your other outfits around it. Colors do not have to match but they should at least bear some relation to each other.

There are three separate styles of beach modes. Beach pajamas are a wise choice if you have a figure that you aren't afraid to reveal. They are suave and handsome on the slender, youthful figure. But they are not given to hiding curves. If you have a surplus of flesh on your hips or around your waist, pajamas are not for you.

The same is true of shorts. Leave them for youthful, slim girls.

Shorts are smart as can be, however. Worn with linen blouses or jersey sweaters, they lend an immediate atmosphere of "playtime."

For the woman who knows that she does not look well on the beach in either pajamas or shorts, there are beach dresses. And handsome they are, too. Anyone can wear them. They are made much the same as street dresses if they are short and like dinner frocks if they are long. Long ones have slit skirts, showing bare leg and a bit of the bathing suit.

You can have them in linen, pique, knotty rayon mixtures and a variety of other novelty cotton weaves.

If you would be ultra smart, have gloves to wear with your beach dress. Run the gauntlet of imagination when it comes to getting a hat to wear with it. You don't have to stick to the wide-brimmed beach hats when you're wearing a beach dress. Turbans, berets and hats with small brims are modish.

HERE is something entirely new in the way of beach attire. Black and white striped jersey fashions a sleeveless dress with divided skirt. The jacket is red jersey with white revers.

The beige linen beach dress dotted in blue, shown at left, is fine for wear at the ocean-side. Hat, gloves and large bow tie are of pink linen. The sleeveless dress at right, with divided skirt, is of black and white striped jersey. The jacket is red jersey with white revers.

It's the kind of a costume you can select if you simply can't bear wearing anything but pajamas on the beach. You'll have the pajama effect via the divided skirt, but, at the same time, you'll be wearing a beach dress which conceals hips to the utmost. You'll love it for boating parties, too.

A beige linen beach dress which is nice enough to wear on any beach or resort is embroidered with blue dots.

The hat, gloves and large bow tie are of pink linen.

You can vary your shoes to suit your mood. Beach sandals are on an equal basis with more dressy shoes when it comes to an appropriate type of footgear to wear with this costume.

The jersey, divided skirt outfit is best for the girl who actually does a lot of swimming. The linen dress serves well the purpose of the lady who sits on the beach or lounges on the porch of a resort hotel but doesn't swim very much.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Boys and girls whose homes are on farms and are graduating from high school and colleges this year will not be compelled to remain idle for some months, as most of their city cousins are forced to do. The old farm can readily absorb them into its activities now. Farm work is usually so constituted that more room can always be found for another member of the family, although such work may not always be highly profitable. Even at that, it will engage the mind and talents which is far better than living in idleness.

Boys and girls around Canyon who have an opportunity to employ their spare time in farm work this summer and fall should keep in mind that extra projects can often be made to bring a few dollars. But if they are so situated that they cannot actually profit in money returns they ought to be thankful for the comforts of home, and plenty to eat—things tens of thousands of people are now actually longing for. The chance to employ one's time to good advantage is worth all and more than the labor involved, for it is only when one has a task to perform that real happiness exists.

If you are fortunate enough to have a farm home—stick to it. If you live in town, seek out a farm family that can provide you with a place in its home, and jump right in and keep happy by keeping busy. You'll always have reason to be glad you did, but you'll never see the time when you can truthfully say that loafing helped you to better things.

A woman doesn't really begin to have faith in a man until other people lose it.

Recently there was quite a vogue for compiling a list of the most beautiful words in the English language. Our choice would be: "We just want you to know we were thinking of you."

A California science professor is trying to learn a simple, inexpensive method of getting as close as possible to absolute zero. We would suggest he be truthful in telling a woman how old she looks.

Now is the time when the younger generation goes to the beach to be tanned by the sun, when what it needs, according to the older folks, is to be tanned by the father.

A news item states that the United States leads the world in the consumption of bananas. And probably, during the election season, of banana oil also.

THE STATE OF TEXAS:

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Randall County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Joseph Austin Bassett, and the unknown heirs of said Joseph Austin Bassett, their heirs and legal representatives, by making publication of this citation once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but, if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the district court of Randall County, Texas, to be holden at the courthouse thereof, in Canyon, Texas, on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1933, the same being the 7th day of August, A. D. 1933, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 3rd day of July, A. D. 1933, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court, No. 1380, wherein Florence Donovan, a feme sole, Henry Alton Bassett and Lydia E. V. Bassett, a feme sole, are plaintiffs, and Joseph Austin Bassett and the unknown heirs of said Joseph Austin Bassett, their heirs and legal representatives, are defendants; the nature of plaintiffs' demand being as follows:

Plaintiffs allege, in count of trespass to try title, that on or about the 1st day of May, 1933, they were lawfully seized and possessed of an undivided five-sixths interest in and to section No. forty (40), block No. nine (9), certificate 1-20, B. S. & F. grantee, located in Randall County, Texas, and pray for judgment for title and possession of said interest in said land as against defendants.

In the alternative, plaintiffs allege that plaintiffs and defendants are the joint owners of said section No. forty (40), block No. nine (9), certificate 1-20 B. S. & F. grantee, Randall County, Texas, as heirs of Allen S. Bassett, deceased; the plaintiff, Florence Donovan, being entitled to an undivided one-half interest, and the plaintiffs, Henry Alton Bassett, and Lydia E. V. Bassett, and the defendant, Joseph Austin Bassett, (or his representative heirs, if he be dead) being each entitled to an undivided one-sixth interest in and to said tract of land; the plaintiff, Florence Donovan, further alleging a cloud cast on the title to her interest in said lands by reason of a certain deed of trust executed by her on the 3rd day of December, 1917, in favor of the defendant, Joseph Austin Bassett, due on or before five years after date, which said deed of trust and lien created thereby she alleges she is entitled to have cancelled, and her interest in said land awarded to her free and clear thereof.

Plaintiffs, on their alternative plea, pray for judgment partitioning said land among plaintiffs and defendants, according to their respective interests; and the plaintiff, Florence Donovan, further prays that the cloud cast on the title to her interest in said land be removed, and that her share be awarded to her free and clear of said deed of trust lien aforesaid; and plaintiffs further pray for all relief to which they may show themselves entitled, whether general or special, legal or equitable; and also for citation by publication, the place of residence of the defendant, Joseph Austin Bassett, if living, being unknown; and, if he be dead, the heirs, their heirs and legal representatives, of the said Joseph Austin Bassett being unknown.

Witness: Berl E. Mayfield, Clerk of the District Court of Randall County, Texas.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, in the town of Canyon, this the 3rd day of July, A. D. 1933.

Prohibition Special Maeks Short Stop in Canyon Monday

Passing through Canyon Monday morning the West Texas Prohibition Special train made its first stop after a full day of activity in Amarillo Sunday where the speakers who accompany the train and make up its "crew" spoke both morning and evening in Amarillo churches with Dr. B. B. Corbin speaking in the Canyon Methodist Church in the morning and the Baptist Church in the evening. Judge B. D. Sartin, conductor of the train, spoke to a general prohibition meeting in the Amarillo City Auditorium Sunday afternoon.

This "train consists of an automobile engine which draws a duplicate of railway pullman car equipped with berths, water, lights. On its 3,000 mile tour of West Texas the speakers use the observation platform and with the use of a loud speaking equipment state they talk with thousands daily. Large rallies are planned ahead for the night stops.

One of the speakers talked to a group of Canyon citizens from the train, calling attention to the Democratic platform assurances that the saloon should not return to the country while now every effort of the administration through the "Wetmaster General Farley" is being made for straight repeal with no provision whatever made to keep the saloon and the entire liquor business from coming back. He quoted the great economist, Prof. Irvine Fisher of Yale University who warns the business of our country that the liquor business cannot employ any additional labor because it merely will replace legitimate labor now employed in business that will be bankrupt by the competition of liquors. The speaker quoted from the government records on the cost of prohibition enforcement, showing the receipts of the Treasury from 1920 through 1932 to be 532 million dollars, the cost of enforcement to have been 284 million dollars leaving a profit of 248 million dollars. It has been charged that prohibition cost too much by those not informed.

W. T. Exes Plan Campaign for New Students in Fall

The Ex-Students Association of the College, working with the Alumni Committee of the institution, is planning an organized campaign for the coming year in order to enable the College to maintain its high standards and continue to grow in attendance.

The board of directors of the Ex-Students Association met with President Hill Tuesday evening to make plans for the year and it was decided to have an Ex-student issue of the Prairie at regular intervals during the coming year. T. H. McDonald, president of the Ex-Student Association, will take an active part in making the movements for 1933-34 a success.

The College Assembly next Tuesday will be devoted to ex-student affairs, and an effort will be made to establish the nucleus of a W. T. club in every county of the region. These clubs will be social in nature, furnishing men and women who have enjoyed campus life here to get together for recreation while teaching, and so retain their college spirit.

Ex-students have had a vital part in the building of the college in the past, they helped build the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum, for without their aid the project would have been almost, if not entirely impossible.

Ex-students helped to elect their "prexy" to the presidency of the State Teachers Association.

They have helped to create an interest in Palo Duro Park, that resident students and others might have a beautiful play ground.

They are constantly working for higher standards of certification, that the schools and prepared teachers may be protected from the unprepared.

During the coming year the ex-students expect to help the faculty and the people of Canyon to keep up the attendance at the local college, even though times are hard. Supt. Irby Carruth is a member of the Ex-student Board of Directors and Miss Anna I. Hibbets is chairman of the faculty ex-student committee.

The regular monthly meeting of the Randall County Dairyman's Association met in the Court House Tuesday night. Arrangements were made for the annual picnic at the J. P. Upchurch farm, Aug. 18th. The picnic this year is to be along the same lines as last year. It will be open to members and invited guests only. Each member will invite as many guests as he cares to entertain. Dr. J. A. Hill Landed 17 Pound Fish at Canadian President J. A. Hill has joined the ranks of fishermen, and has a real fish story, for last week end he caught a channel cat fish weighing 17 pounds, and measuring 32 inches in length. The fish was caught in a lake on the ranch of H. E. Hoover, near Canadian, where Mr. Hill, D. A. Shirley, S. H. Condron and Lee Johnson were guests. Another catch weighing eight pounds was made by the party. They caught all the fish they could use.

President Hill states that his tale is not a fishy story for he has three witnesses to his catch, and the fish heads are added evidence to the veracity of the fishermen.

Jack Dempsey and Bride Will Be In Amarillo Monday

An early rush for tickets to the big wrestling match in Amarillo on August 7 has caused promoters to predict one of the largest crowds ever to attend a sports event in Amarillo will be on hand when Jack Dempsey, the former fistic idol of millions, steps into the ring at the City Auditorium to referee the match.

Dempsey's appearance in Amarillo will be the first time he has shown here in a personal performance, and the flood of requests for tickets indicates he is as popular in the Panhandle as he is elsewhere.

Dutch Mantell, grizzled veteran of the wrestling game, and Sailor Moran, a free-swinging youngster of Arkansas, will vie for gladiatorial honors with Dempsey the third man.

Wilbur C. Hawk booked the performance and Cal Farley made the arrangements.

Out-of-town reservations may be phoned or mailed to Miss Lois Black at the Globe-News.

Prices for the big exhibition are $2.20 for ringsides, $1.10 and $1.55 for downstairs and 85c and 55c for balcony seats. All prices include federal tax.

Besides the appearance of Dempsey, preliminary matches, a personal appearance of "Hannah Williams," Dempsey's bride, an address by the former champion will be included on the program.

Mrs. Dempsey, the former Mrs. Otto Kahn, is a star of Broadway musical comedy and only last year won the title of "the cheerful little earful" of the show world.
